

Composition On the Wonder of Modern Science

Introduction: Modern civilization is the gift of science. The wonder and blessings of science beggar description. Modern Science at Technology Method systems. The wonder of modern science is too many to be illustrated in a short essay. Electricity, Telephone, Television, Radio, Cinema, Aeroplane, Rocket, Telegraph, Computer, E-mail, Internet, X-ray, Nuclear, energy, etc. are the highest blessings and wonders of modern science. we need Science In Everyday Life.

Science of Electricity: Electricity is the driving force of modern civilization. It gives power and energy. Man can now remove the darkness of his room by turning a small switch.

The radio and Television Science: Radio is one of the marvelous inventions of modern science. It carries our small voice to the farthest corner of the world. It gives us news, songs, discussions, play, poetry, etc. Television is another wonder of modern science. It is another popular medium for sharing thoughts and opinions.

Computer Science: The computer is one of the greatest wonders of modern science. It is a substitute for the human brain. It is the latest means of communication of thoughts and ideas. In every sphere of life, man has been using this wonder of modern science. It seems that in the distant future, man will be a doll and computer will do every brain work.

Science in Communication: Telephone, telegraph, fax, internet, e-mail, etc. are the fastest mode of communication. Hydroplanes, buses. trucks, science, launches, and steamers carry passengers and goods. In fact, science has made the world a global village.

Science in Medicine: Science has done great wonders in the field of medicine and the treatment of patients. It has removed human and other creatures' sufferings by inventing instruments and medicines to fight against diseases. The X-ray, the Pathological diagnostic devices, the Penicillin have come as real blessings to humanity. The modern hospital cannot be run without scientific tools and drugs.

Drawbacks: Modern science is not an unmixed blessing. Nuclear weapons may destroy the world at any time. The sample of Hiroshima still stays as a nightmare experience. Science is meant for the benefit of mankind. But man misuses this heavenly gift out of his selfish motive and brings unspeakable sufferings to human life.

Conclusion: The gift of science should be utilized for the welfare of mankind. Inventions of modern science should be used as blessings. Let the gigantic power be applied for the greater harmony and welfare of mankind.