

Short Composition on My Future Plan of Life

Every man has an aim in life. A man without an aim is like a ship without a rudder. A fixed aim helps a man to succeed in life. Great men in the world had their fixed aims in life.

Different men have different aims in life. Some want to be high officials or scholars or poets etc. Someone wants to be engineer or teacher etc. I am a student of class X, and I have a definite aim. The aim of my life is to become a doctor and provide free treatment to those who are very poor. My father who is a doctor always inspires me to be a doctor like him.

This reason of my so choice is that most of the people of our village are poor and illiterate. Good doctors do not stay in the village. The poor villagers have no ability to go to town and get better treatment. I saw many poor villagers die untimely for want of treatment. My heart is filled with profound grief for these people. so, I have decided to be a doctor and serve the poor people in their healthcare to the best of my ability.

I know that a brilliant result is necessary for studying medicine after . I am confident that I shall get A+ in . After that, I shall get myself admitted into Adhyapak Abdul Majid College. I shall study Biology at higher secondary level. I am confident that I will have a distinctive result and will be able to qualify myself to enroll in a Govt. Medical College. After securing degree I shall come back to my village and open a dispensary. I shall give free treatment to the poor patients.

Success in life depends largely on the right choice and knack to the profession. I am highly interested in biology and knowing about human body and medicine. I will start my profession. I also feel a real love for the poor people who die of diseases without proper treatment. So, I think becoming a doctor is a right choice for me. May God help me to reach my goal.