

Short Composition on Tree Plantation

Introduction: Tree plantation means planting more and more trees. We know that the tree is our best friend on the earth. It is essential for the environmental balance. It is essential to our existence. We cannot live without it.

Deforestation and its result: We cut down trees for many reasons. We cut down trees to get timber and firewood. We also use trees as our housing material. For this, we cut trees. Cutting of too many trees leads the world to the desert. It is responsible for the greenhouse effect. Birds and animals are losing their habits. Many of them have already been extinct. For too much heat, the polar ice caps will melt. Most of the parts of the world will be flooded. There will be no ecological balance. Thus, the world will be unfit for living.

Usefulness of trees: the tree is the most useful gift of nature. We cannot live without a tree. The tree provides us fresh oxygen, shade and shelter. The tree helps to keep the environment balanced. It prevents air pollution by taking carbon dioxide. It protects us from natural disasters.

Plantation: every person should plant trees. In empty space, trees should be planted. More and more trees should be planted on both sides of roads and embankments. Tree plantation campaign should be continued everywhere. Public awareness is essential to make the campaign successful.

Conclusion: we can say that we cannot live a single minute without trees. So, it is high time to plant trees and stop cutting down trees. We should plant more and more trees for our own existence. Both the governments and the countryman should come forward. The more we plant trees, the more we do good for us.