

Dialogue Between Myself and The Headmaster on Three Days' Leave

Question: Suppose, you are Rashid / Rashida. You need three days' leave. You have gone to your headmaster for leave. Now, write a dialogue between you and your headmaster about leave.

Answer: A dialogue between Rashid (myself) and the Headmaster about his three days' leave:

Rashid: May I come in, sir?

Headmaster: Yes, come in.

Rashid: Good morning, sir.

Headmaster: Good morning. Any problem?

Rashid: Sir, I need three days' leave.

Headmaster: Three days' leave! Why do you need three days' leave? Your test exam is very near. At this moment, you should be regular in all your classes.

Rashid: You're right sir. But there's an unavoidable circumstance.

Headmaster: What's that?

Rashid: Sir, my elder sister's marriage ceremony will come off next week. For this reason, I need three days' leave.

Headmaster: Oh! I see. It's really unavoidable.

Rashid: Yes, sir. I can't but attend the marriage ceremony.

Headmaster: Well, where's your application?

Rashid: Here it is, sir.

Headmaster: Ok, submit it to the head clerk.

Rashid: Thank you, sir.

Headmaster: Welcome.
