Dear Lucky,

With great enthusiasm, I opened the newspaper to see the happy news of your success. But I was greatly shocked when I found your roll number missing in the newspaper. Had I known it before that I would have to receive such a shocking news, I would not have gone through the result.

Dear Lucky, what is gone. gone forever. What is lotted, cannot be blotted. You should not take your failure to heart. Your long illness before your examination troubled your studies. Moreover, your mother was sick and you had to look after all the household affairs. All these are responsible for your failure.

We all know about your brilliant result in the previous examinations. I do still believe that if you start to work hard right from now. next year you will make again a brilliant result.

Please write to me about your progress. With best wishes to your parents and love to the youngers.

My parents join me in my sympathy towards you.

Yours sincerely

Sumi
