

Paragraph on A Day Laborer Or, The Life of a Day Laborer

Question: Write a paragraph about the life of 'A Day Laborer'. Your paragraph should include the answers to the following questions.

What do you know about his physique?

Where does he live?

What kind of life does he live in?

What do you know about his daily activities?

What are his pleasures and pains?

What happens when he can't find work?

How can we develop their condition?

Answer: A day laborer is a person who leads his life by the sweat of his brow. He is healthy, strong, and stout. He lives with his family in a slum and leads a subhuman life. He is usually employed in agricultural or construction work. He works from morning till evening, according to the direction of his employer. He gets up early in the morning and goes out in search of work. In the evening, he gets his wages. Then he goes to the market, buys his daily necessities, and returns to his house. He has both pleasures and pains. If he earns more, he gets pleasure. When he fails to do that, he gets pain. A day laborer's life is full of hardship. He often works in very bad working conditions. Sometimes he is given to do risky jobs. But he is little paid for such risky jobs. A day laborer works in extremely bad weather. If he does not find any work, his family starves. If he falls sick, he and his family suffer most. A day laborer indeed renders valuable service to society. He contributes a lot to the development of a country. So, we should show due respect to a day laborer.

Or,

Paragraph on A Day Laborer

Question: Write a paragraph about 'A Day Labourer' by answering the questions below.

Who is a day laborer?

How does he live?

What does he do every day?

How is his life?

What are his jobs and sufferings?

How can his condition be improved?

Answer: A day laborer works for the whole day. He is a very hardworking man. He has no definite job. Usually, a day laborer lives in a slum or a hut. He gets up very early in the morning and goes out in search of work. He continues his work till the sun sets. A day laborer works in a 2 agricultural field, in a construction site, in a railway station, a bus terminal, a ferry ghat, a launch terminal, etc. Though a day laborer is engaged in heavy manual work, he is always neglected and his work is not evaluated. Rather he is looked down upon in our society. He has to 4:14 struggle for his existence. A day laborer works under an employer, after hard work for the whole day, he goes to the market to buy some rice and vegetables, then he returns home, cooks food, and has his meal with his family. He earns by the sweat of his brow. If he cannot manage work on any day, he has to starve with his family. He does not know how to take a rest. If he is ill, he does not get proper treatment. He cannot send his children to school. He cannot buy good clothes. He puts on a shabby dress. A day laborer is always ill-fed and ill-clad. He is burdened with a big family. When he becomes old and cannot work, he has to live a miserable life.