Answer: The dream is a common phenomenon in human life. Everybody dreams and almost every night. Some of those dreams are such that are easily remembered and can hardly be forgotten while some others go into oblivion. Similarly, I have dreamt many a dream. While I have forgotten most of them, a few of them are still fresh in my mind and memory. A few days back I dreamt a pleasant dream. It was about my HSC examination saw it in the small hours of the morning. After this, I woke up and I could not sleep anymore. I dreamt that I was taking my exam. The exam hall was full of examinees and the invigilators. And to my surprise, I found that all the questions – were known to me. So I was in a fix regarding which questions to answer and which ones to avoid. I told my friends about it and they said that it was because I was too much worried about the exam.
