

Paragraph on A School Magazine

Question: Write a paragraph on 'A School Magazine.' Your paragraph should include the answer to the following questions.

What is-a school magazine?

Who works for it?

How is it published?

What does it contain?

Who bears the expenditure of publication?

What is its usefulness?

How does it help our young learners?

Answer: A school magazine is an annual publication of a school. It contains the writings of the students and the teachers. It is a forum through which young learners can get the opportunity to express the green ideas of their minds. It is published every year with an interesting and significant title. Almost all aspects of the school are reflected through it. It is an important milestone in the progress and prospect of a school. A school magazine generally contains poems, short stories, essays, one-act plays, jokes, and reports of cultural activities of the school. Usually, there is a magazine committee in a school for publishing a magazine. A teacher is usually given the charge of guiding the work of publication. A group of students works together with much encouragement. The Headteacher is the chief patron of the magazine. The magazine editor at first invites writings on different subjects from the students. After proper scrutiny of the collected writings for the magazine, the editor selects good ones and sends them to the press for printing. The school authority bears the total expenditure of publication. The school magazine can help the students to develop their latent faculties as well as their power of thinking and writing. In fact, the school magazine is the first stepping stone for future writers. A young learner really feels proud and happy when he finds his writing in the magazine.

Or,

Paragraph on A School Magazine

A school magazine is a kind of periodical publication, which contains the writings and contributions of the students and the teachers in a school. Every school publishes a school magazine every year. At first, a committee is formed for publishing the magazine. Then the committee asks the learners and the teachers to send their writings. The editor then corrects the writings. They select publishable writings. The school magazine is generally open to all teachers and the famous person outside the school is allowed to write in it. It also contains messages from the headmaster, assistant headmaster, and the chairman of the school managing committee. There are short stories, poems, essays, verses, jokes, riddles, and other writings related to studies, sports, and cultural activities of the school. It often contains an album of photography. A school magazine can play a vital role in improving the young learner's habit of reading and writing. It can develop the students' interest in literature. It stimulates their imagination and develops their creative powers. It is a mirror of the school. It adds to the glory and honor of the school.