Who else accompanied you?

What did you see there?

How did you feel there?

Answer: I am an HSC examinee. I read in a college in Dhaka. Recently I had visited my primary school. Its name is Rupnagar Primary School. It is in my home district. Jamalpur. Last December, I was in my village to spend the winter vacation. On the annual prize-giving ceremony of the school, I went there with my younger sister who won the prize of the best student of Class V. My parents and my younger brother accompanied me. There I saw a festive look. The whole school was decorated with posters and flowers. I felt delighted to meet some of my teachers and friends. All my childhood memories haunted me. I noticed radical changes of the school. There is a three-story building in place of the tin-shed. The big krishnachura tree under which we used to play has been cut off. Noticing all the changes, I felt both joy and sorrow.
