

Paragraph on Acid Rain

Question: Do you know what is acid rain? Write a paragraph about acid rain. You should include the following statements.

What is acid rain?

How it damages

What steps can be taken to prevent it

Answer: Nowadays environmental pollution is one of the most talked of topics in the world. Because environmental pollution causes various disasters to human life. Acid rain is one of, them. When acid instead of waterfalls from the sky, then it is called acid rain. Acid rain contains harmful chemicals from factories. Substances called acids have a polluted area, rain can cause damage to trees, and lakes. wildlife, buildings, and human health. There is a link between acid rain and damage to human health. Breathing in the chemicals can harm people causing chest illnesses. Also, when acid rain causes the release of chemicals and metals into drinking water, it can damage people's health. In a word, Acid rain is very harmful. And prevent this. we should not let the environment be polluted. We should. take all necessary steps to keep our environment sound and healthy.

Or,

Paragraph on Acid Rain

Question: Write a paragraph about 'Acid Rain' by answering the questions below.

What does acid rain mean?

What are the contents of acid rain?

What is the effect of acid rain on public health?

What is the effect of acid rain on the environment?

How does acid rain affect our drinking water?

What are the things which are badly damaged by acid rain?

Answer: Acid rain is a kind of rain that contains some chemicals that hurt human beings, plants, and the environment. Due to acid rain respiratory diseases are caused. In some places, acid rain is as acidic as orange or vinegar for which water and stained glasses are affected very badly. The water of lakes and rivers is polluted by acid rain. Even if the trees and plants are damaged by acid rain, It causes health hazards to the public. The legendary glory of the Taj Mahal is also going to be affected because of this acid rain. Specialists say that acid rain is the consequence of environmental pollution. Therefore, if we want to prevent acid rain, we must fight against environmental pollution.