

Paragraph on Bad Effect of Internet

The Internet is one of the greatest inventions of modern science. it is the most effective and the most modern means of communication. The Internet is a vast world of information. It supplies the users with detailed information and news of any sort as per their demand.

Internet facilitates access to any library, museum, or archive around the world. Using the Internet we can make instant contact with any person from any corner of the world. Internet is like Aladdin's Magic Lamp. But unfortunately, the Internet is being misused by most people with perverted tastes. Through Internet, they satisfy their immoral desires and wishes. Thus Internet is causing moral degradation in our youths. But we cannot discard this greatest blessing of science. We have to motivate our youths to utilize this technology in the right manner and thus be greatly benefited from it.
