

Paragraph on Birthday Party

The birthday is a festival. The day on which a man is born is his birthday. It is an important day in one's life. Many celebrate this day by giving, a party, which is known as a birthday party.

Generally, those who are cultural and financially solvent throw a party on this occasion. A birthday party is generally held in the drawing-room of a house. The room is decorated with colored papers and birthday balloons. On a colored paper "Happy Birthday" is written down for whom it is being celebrated. Candles are lighted depending on the age of the person. The birthday cake is the central attraction of a birthday party. Various snacks are served at a birthday party. Generally, a birthday party is given in the afternoon in a homely atmosphere. So, it is very enjoyable.