Campus Violence

Answer: There is hardly any educated man who is not well acquainted with the term campus violence. All the colleges and universities have become mini cantonments that are full of mortal weapons and ammunition. The educational campuses have turned into fertile ground for violence or terrorism. The students, instead of concentrating their mind on studies take arms in their hands. Many brilliant innocent students fall an easy victim and cannot attain success. There is no tolerance among the students. One can not tolerate the other. Democracy teaches tolerance but the students are far away from the teaching of democracy. Students should take part in politics but this does not mean terrorism. Campus violence not only ruins the academic environment but also spoils the life of the students and takes away many valuable lives. However, the students are not to blame. They have become puppets in the hands of the so-called narrow-minded politicians. The self-centered narrow-minded politicians exploit innocent students and encourage them terrorism by supplying them with weapons.

By creating awareness in the student's campus violence can be eradicated from the sacred soil of the seats of learning. Students should bear in mind that they are born to read and write. They are the devotees in the temple of learning. So they should devote themselves to learning without killing a single moment. It is the seed time for them to take preparation for the future battle of time and may not cry for help when they are thrown into the vortex of life. So instead of implicating themselves in so-called student politics, they should fill their mind with the fuel of ideas to set 'sail on the voyage of life. They should not be puppets in the hands of the so-called narrow-minded politicians. Last of all self-centered narrow-minded politicians should not exploit innocent students and encourage them terrorism by supplying them with weapons.
