

Paragraph on Flower Fair

The flower is the beauty of nature. The flower fair is a recent addition to our urban life. All love flowers. People in both the cities and the village's plant flower plants just for the sake of beauty. Nowadays, flowers are also cultivated and sold in the market. A flower fair encourages the cultivation and gardening of flowers. A flower fair is generally held in towns and cities. In fact, those who are cultural in mind and have a love for beauty, normally participate in this kind of fair. In Dhaka, the exhibition of rose is seen once a year fair is held in winter, as it is the season of flower fair clubs organizes that kind of fair. When someone visits a flower fair, it seems to him that he has come to a world of beauty and purity. The popularity of flower fair is it seems to him that has come to a world of beauty and purity. The popularity of the flower fair is increasing among the adorers of beauty. In our busy lives, a flower fair may be a source of mental peace and ease. Everybody likes a flower for and its beauty and smell.