If you want to observe the day, you need to do certain things. First of all, make a committee including the teachers, Headmaster and the students. Make the Headmaster president of the committee. Then make a list of programmes you want to perform. You can arrange a march past. You can also arrange a cultural and discussion programme. Arrange a rehearsal programme in order to perform these programmes beautifully. Decorate your college campus one day before the final day. On that very day, wake up very early in the morning.
