Answer: My father is a teacher in a primary school. He is known to our locality as an ideal teacher. He is honest, modest, gentle and dutiful. He started his career as a teacher when he was thirty. My father has managed a tutor for me. I like him very much. He is very liberal, amicable, kind-hearted and sympathetic. When I fail to understand any matter, he teaches me very attentively and carefully. He teaches me not only the academic syllabus but also the current affairs of the world. Many times he advises me not to quarrel with anybody, not to steal and never to tell a lie. His advice helps me to remain honest. I make a very friendly relation with him. I consider him my guide, master and philosopher. His proper guidance and counseling will help me to make a good result and make a bright career. I will try to remember him in my memory.
