

Paragraph on My Home

Question: Answer the following questions to form a continuous paragraph. (100 words)

Where is your home?

Where does it stand?

How is your home?

How is it adorned with nature?

How do you feel in your home?

Answer: A home is a place of dwelling as well as mental satisfaction. Everyone wants a home of his/her own. I have a home on the other side of the river Buriganga. The area is called Chunkutia. It is not very far from Dhaka City. Though the area is very near to Dhaka, it is still backward. But the natural surrounding it is very charming. In other words, I can say I live in the lap of nature. There is green everywhere around my home. It soothes my eyes. Whenever I go out of my home, I feel homesick. I get up from bed with the chirping sounds of the bird. There is no artificial sound except some natural sound created by different natural objects. Though my home lacks modern amenities it is full of filial and fraternal love, care, and affection. My home is enriched with the beauties and bounties of nature. Trees all around with fruits and flowers make me feel proud of my home. I live here with full satisfaction and peace of mind.

Or,

My Home

Question:

Where is your home situated?

How is it furnished?

How are the rooms used?

What is there on the wall?

How does the home look?

How do you feel about your home?

Answer: my home is situated in a village in the district of Patuakhali. It is a home of a two-storied tin-shed building. It faces the south and looks very beautiful. It has as many as eight rooms. We use four rooms and bedrooms, One for guests and the other three for the five members of the family. The other four rooms are used as a reading room, store room, drawing room, and dining room. There hang a few nice pictures of charming views, photographs, and handiworks on the walls. There are a bathroom, a sanitary latrine, and a kitchen at a little distance from the house. There is a beautiful flower garden in front of the house. There is a big pond beside the kitchen. A few fruit trees have been planted on the three sides of the pond. It is really very sweet to look into. We are quite happy to live in this house. We feel like saying after the poet, "Home, home, sweet home; there is no place like home."

Or,

My Home

The place where I live with my family is my home. It is a village college called Rajanpur, Upazilla Nabinagar in the district. The main house is mainly made of bricks. It is a big house with wide windows on all sides and doors on two sides. There are two bedrooms, one sitting room, and one dining room. Each and every one of the rooms is well-furnished and spotlessly neat and clean. It is well-ventilated. Sufficient air and light can get into it. The home is surrounded by green trees on three sides. It has an ample yard. The home is very beautiful to look at. A lovely flower garden is in front of the gate of the house. So, the home is very comfortable to live in. I have a separate reading room in it. I use it as my bedroom too. I like my home very much because it is an ideal house to live in peace.

Or,

My Home

Question: Write a paragraph about 'Your Home' by answering the questions below.

- (a) Where is your home?
- How is it built?
- What is the location of the home?
- Who lives in your home?
- Why do you like your home?

Answer: My home is at Kalagachi in the district of Serajgong under the Belkuchi Upazilla. My home is a building with a tin roof. Its wall is made of brick and its roof is made of corrugated sheet. It is a 'U' shaped building. In front of the house, there are some coconut trees and there are some mango, jackfruit, and litchi trees. There are five rooms in my house. My parents live in a room and I live in a separate room. My younger brother and sister live in a room adjacent to our parents' room. A room is used as a dining-cum-drawing room. Another room is used as a guest room. Behind our home, there is a flower garden. I work in the garden in the afternoon. At a short distance from our home, the river Jamuna flows with nurturing sound. We get fresh and pure air in the morning and evening from the river. Beautiful sunshine enters our home for which we can get enough light. We live here in peace and comfort. I am happy to live here.