

Paragraph on Stamp Collecting

Question: Answer the following questions to form a continuous paragraph. (100 Words)

What is stamp collecting?

Why do people collect stamps?

Where are the stamps kept?

How can one get stamps?

What is its educative value?

Answer: By stamp collecting, we understand the collection of postal stamps of different countries. It is a useful hobby for many. They collect stamps for pleasure. It teaches the collector to work in a disciplined way. Because the stamps have to be pasted into the album. The names of different countries are written in alphabetic order. We can purchase stamps from the philatelic bureau. Foreign stamps can be collected through pen-friends or relatives serving in other countries. By systematically arranging the stamps, we know the names of different countries and gather knowledge about the important monuments, and statesmen. product and history of those countries, Thus stamp collecting has great educative value. A stamp is not a mere piece of paper. It is very much a record of history. A stamp tells us of the time, place, and country of its origin. Students may well be advised to develop the habit of stamp collecting.

Or,

STAMP COLLECTING

Question: Write a paragraph about 'Stamp Collecting'. by answering the questions below.

What is stamp collecting?

Why do people collect stamps?

Where are the stamps kept?

How can one get stamps?

What is its educative value?

Answer: Stamp collecting means the collection of postal stamps of different countries. It is a favorite hobby for many people. They collect stamps for pleasure. Stamp collecting is not only a pastime it is educative too. By collecting stamps one can learn about different countries, their cities, capitals, production, and many other things: We can purchase stamps from the Philatelic Bureau. Foreign stamps can be collected through pen-friends or relatives serving in other countries. By systematically arranging the stamps, we can gather knowledge about the important monuments, statesmen, products, and history of many countries. Thus stamp collecting has great educative value. A stamp is not a mere piece of paper. It is very much a record of history. A stamp tells us of the time, place, and country of its origin. Students may well be advised to develop the habit of stamp collecting.