

Short Paragraph on Price Hike

Bangladesh is a small country with growing problems. Among all the problems, the price hike is a great one. Prices of everything are increasing day by day. All are getting concerned with this problem. Many reasons are responsible for it. The first and foremost cause is overpopulation. The small country cannot produce enough food for its increasing population. Business syndicate, smuggling, and corruption are also responsible for it. Our political instability greatly contributes to it. Most of the people are living under the poverty line. So, their condition is becoming so miserable. Many of them have to remain hungry almost every day. The poor children are leaving school in despair for the price hike, many are becoming sick for want of balanced food. They cannot afford to buy any medicine. For the price hike, the poor are becoming poorer. The problem of price hike is hindering the overall development of our country. It should be solved at any cost. It is high time to solve the problem. Conscious people should work together with the Government in this regard. Otherwise, we all fall into great danger.
