

Story On a Queen and His Stepdaughter Snow White

Once a queen was jealous of the beauty of her only stepdaughter named snow white. She ordered her huntsman to kill snow white. But the huntsman, instead of killing snow-white, left her in the forest. While she was running in the forest out of fear, seven dwarfs found her. They took her to their house and brought her up. Once a prince came by that forest. As soon as he saw her, he fell in love with her, married her, and took her to his kingdom. The queen heard that and went to the prince's palace to kill snow white. As soon as she arrived, the prince's guard caught her and took her to the prince. Seeing her, the prince became very angry. He ordered his people to punish her. Snow White came to know that. She rushed to the spot. The queen told to forgive snow white. Snow white was kind. She forgave the queen. From that time, snow-white started spending time happily with the prince.
