

Story on Tit For Tat

There were two gentlemen who lived in the same town. One of them was an Englishman and the other was a Bangle. The Englishman was a doctor and the Bangle gentleman was a teacher. Once the two gentlemen were traveling by the same train and they were in the same compartment. The English gentleman was very proud of his riches. He did not like the Bangle gentleman at all. Once he threw shoes of another gentleman outside the train. He felt insulted and took an oath to take revenge. But he was not getting the chance. Suddenly the Englishman could not but respond to the call of nature. He took off his hat and put it on the seat beside the Bangle gentleman. He thought it was the time to take revenge on the English gentleman. He threw the hat through the window of the train. Coming back from the toilet, the Englishman was looking for his hat. But he could not find it anywhere. So, he asked the neighboring Bengalese gentleman, 'Where is my hat'? The Bengalese replied It has gone to bring my shoes.'